

Admission

ISEP 2012 is designed for serious engineering students regardless of international experience or major. In previous years Chemical, Civil, Electrical and Mechanical Engineering students have all participated and done well in this program, with motivation and a strong academic background being the best predictors for success. Space in ISEP 2012 is limited. In general students will be accepted on a first-come first-accepted basis until the program fills-up. Interested students should contact Dr. Derek Baker (dbaker@metu.edu.tr) by Jan. 1 to indicate their interest and learn more about the admission process.
